VOLUNTARY SURRENDER & ARREST OF NANA AGYEI BAFFOUR AWUAH TO EOCO TO ASSIST WITH ONGOING INVESTIGATIONS

The Economic and Organised Crime Office (EOCO) wishes to inform the public that Nana Agyei Baffour Awuah, Senior Partner of Sarkodie, Baffour Awuah and Partners, voluntarily surrendered himself at the premises of EOCO today at approximately 10 am to assist investigators in ongoing investigations.

His appearance follows several months of efforts by the Office to secure his attendance before investigators in connection with ongoing investigations into allegations relating to criminal conspiracy, financial loss to SIC Savings and Loans, money laundering, tax-related offences and other matters under investigation.

The Office subsequently commenced the applicable investigative and operational procedures in respect of Mr. Baffour Awuah.

In accordance with those procedures, Mr. Baffour Awuah was subsequently placed under arrest and is currently cooperating with investigators as the investigative process proceeds.

EOCO further wishes to assure the public that its investigations will progress professionally, independently and in accordance with due process.

The Office will continue to pursue all relevant lines of inquiry, examine the available evidence and afford all persons involved their rights under the Constitution and applicable laws.

The public is therefore urged to allow the investigative and judicial processes to proceed without speculation or premature conclusions regarding the culpability of any individual.

EOCO will provide further information when it is appropriate and legally permissible to do so.
